

Do you have all the crucial information regarding Court of Protection and deputyship applications? And what about funding when the EHCP falls away?

We are inviting you to join us at
The Sheiling Ringwood on Friday 22 March 2019

John Friel, a barrister renowned for his work in the SEND field and Hayley Mason, Senior Solicitor with SEN Legal can offer specialist knowledge relating to Court of Protection issues and Continuing Healthcare funding which comes into play as your young person reaches adulthood. John and Hayley will be speaking at an event specifically for local parents of children with learning disabilities.

Hayley will explain the Court of Protection procedure, how to apply to be a deputy, explain who can act as a deputy for a learning disabled person, clarify what decisions a deputy can make and also when best to apply for deputyship. John will cover funding by the CCG including what is Continuing Healthcare? What is the Procedure and why might you need it?

A buffet lunch will be provided after their presentation and John and Hayley will also be available to answer any individual questions you may have regarding your situation.
